New Director of North APAC Sales

The 2018 research from Rabobank has forecast continuing growth in the Asian poultry market which has already outperformed global growth for the past five years. Accordingly, Jamesway has been expanding its presence in Asia as demand increases for its hatchery equipment, specifically single-stage machinery. To that end Jamesway is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Junran Yang as Director of North APAC Sales. Mr. Yang is perfectly positioned for this role as he combines native knowledge of China and the Asian market with North American experience, working for Jamesway Canada. He has solid engineering background and sound knowledge of poultry industry encompassing hatchery design, ventilation, automation and machinery. Mr. Yang will be leading his team from their Chinese office and manufacturing base in Beijing.

"I am really excited to be representing Jamesway in this area. I believe that Jamesway has the best equipment for the Asian market and a product with such high energy savings and biosecurity is perfectly designed for the issues in the poultry sector today. Jamesway wants to ensure that every machine gets outstanding results whether hatching chickens, ducks or geese. This is an impressive machine and I know that the Asian market needs this equipment, so my team and I are very eager to service our clients," says Yang.
